THE BEST ILLUMINATED PART OF RICHMOND

The brightest and best illuminated section of this city is near Ninth and Broad, where the new Lubin Theatre has just been completed and illuminated with 2,100 electric lights. Adjoining the Lubin is the Bijou, and on the corner nearby is the Colonial, on both of which there are many decorations consisting of electric lights. What part electric lights play as an advertisement can best be judged by the crowds that have visited the Lubin since it has been illuminated and the statement of the manager, who says that the company operates a similar place in Philadelphia, where it has considerable competition.
